FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The RCI Foundation Canada Photography Contest

“There are many talented people in the building industry with varied interests and viewpoints of the built environment. The RCI Foundation Canada is looking for a few striking digital images to enhance its website illustrating the RCI Foundation mission of research, education, and the dissemination of information to the industry.” Development Officer Ann Hess said.

Photographs should speak to the importance of the building envelope by highlighting one or more areas of the Foundation’s mission. The content is open to one’s imagination, and photos may be in black and white or in color. Photos created by the contestant must not contain any elements that are protected by someone else’s copyright or otherwise be subject to third-party proprietary rights, including privacy and publicity rights. Submissions must be suitable for a global, public audience. By submitting a photo to the contest, the contestant affirms that he or she has obtained written consent from all individuals whose images or likenesses appear in the photo. The contestant further affirms that he or she has obtained the necessary rights, licenses, consents and permissions to use all material in the photo.

All submitted photographs will become property of the RCI Foundation and may be used to promote the Foundation. The contest begins on December 1, 2013 and closes at 3 p.m. EST on January 31, 2014. Details for submission can be found on the RCI Foundation Canada’s website at www.rcifoundation.ca. Prizes will be awarded in four areas: originality, creativity, effectiveness and photo quality.

The winners will be contacted and announced prior to February 28, 2014, and all winning photographs will be posted on the RCI Foundation Canada’s website. Prizes include a complimentary copy of an RCI Foundation monograph of the winner’s choosing.
